

Moving Mountains – God for All

A Passion for Kendal

Open Workshop 8th March 2018 - St Thomas's Church Kendal 7.30 -9.30

Here are details of an event planned for the Kendal group in the forthcoming Moving Mountains mission.

The importance of the Passion Play Workshop however, lies in the fact that it anticipates a significant future community event in which the local churches can be fully involved, and play a major role in developing and leading. The Workshop will allow Moving Mountains to have a lasting impact on God for All once the Mission itself finishes on March 11th.

In its previous productions, the Kendal Passion Play has reached audiences in excess of 2000, most of whom have not been committed Christians. It has had a profound impact across the local community, and a new production in 2020, building on the scale of previous productions and running throughout Holy Week will build on the strong foundations already established.

Pictures from the 2015 production can be found at Kendal Community Theatre

I hope you will be able to spread the word about the project, or perhaps attend the Workshop. We have passionate and inspirational leaders who will help to establish a working group as partners to take the 2020 Passion for Kendal forward.

With every good wish and blessing

Chris
